Stability

In the investment landscape, art has consistently outperformed indices like the S&P 500 and FTSE 100 over the past two decades. According to Fortune, contemporary art saw a compound annual growth rate of 12.6% between 1995 and 2022, surpassing the 9% total returns of the S&P 500 during the same period. Art's illiquidity benefits assets with stable value and low correlation with the stock market.
