Investment Case

Valuation Summary 📊 To ensure the competitiveness of the investment, we conducted a thorough verification of the purchase price by analyzing recent gallery transactions. Our analysis confirmed that the price offered, inclusive of all associated fees, is highly competitive. To estimate the potential ROI, we used the annualized return of his paintings over the past four years. For our conservative scenario, we assumed the value of the painting would grow at the rate of Swiss inflation, reflecting a defensive approach. In the balanced scenario, we assume a 27.5% probability of realizing a 86.1% (CAGR of the past 4 years) annual return for the next 7 years. Finally, in the ambitious scenario, we assume a 37.5% probability of realizing a 86.1% (CAGR of the past 4 years) annual return for the next 7 years.

Exit Options at Maturity 📖 We will manage the exit strategy in collaboration with our expert Maddox Advisory on behalf of our investors, ensuring the best possible outcome based on market conditions at the time. Depending on the prevailing market situation, the paintings will be sold to a private collector or offered as single lots at an auction for contemporary art. An auction is considered if the price has developed to the point where the minimum bid matches the market value and there is high demand for works by the artist. Both options are carefully considered, and we will choose the one that maximizes the return for our investors.

Why Invest in This Category? 🎨 The art market is evolving, with emerging contemporary artists becoming a focal point for collectors and investors. The Halo Effect, driven by gallery endorsements, social media presence, and high-profile acquisitions, plays a key role in art valuation and long-term appreciation. Touils is gaining traction within this space, with his association with Maddox Gallery enhancing his credibility. As younger collectors prioritize artists with strong narratives and global appeal, investing in artists like Touils presents significant upside potential.

Why Invest in This Asset? 💎 Investing in Touils' extra-large paintings presents a unique and lucrative opportunity in the contemporary art market. His meteoric rise, combined with an exploding demand for Impressionist-inspired modern works, has led to staggering price growth.

Proven Market Appreciation 📈

Between 2021 and 2025, Touils' extra-large paintings have surged from €5,000 to €60,000, a 1,100% increase. Compared to smaller works, these command the highest premium due to their scale, uniqueness, and institutional demand.

Rising Global Recognition 🌍

Touils has been featured in top industry reports:

- Named one of the top 10 emerging artists by Gentleman's Journal.
- Highlighted as one of the most inquired-about artists in Artsy's Market Recap 2024.

His market is expanding, and early collectors are seeing remarkable returns.

Cultural Expansion & Future Demand 🚀

With his relocation to Dubai and the upcoming "Arabic Collection" debuting in 2025, Touils is broadening his artistic reach, increasing demand across European, Middle Eastern, and global art markets.

Context in Time ⌚ Touils' artistic rise coincides with a broader market shift—collectors are seeking large-format, emotionally evocative works from emerging contemporary painters. Additionally, as the 150th anniversary of Impressionism influences collecting trends, his Van Gogh-inspired technique and storytelling approach align perfectly with current market preferences.

Conclusion 🎯 Touils' "The Old Bridge in the Autumn Forest" is more than just a painting—it is a testament to artistic evolution, rarity, and market desirability. With its triptych format, rising valuation, and deep emotional resonance, it is positioned as a standout investment in art. A timeless masterpiece, waiting to bridge past, present, and future.
